

EGG-HEAD OFF, YOUNG MAN GONE

William Lee, Broadway Business Man, Disappears After Surrogate Arnold's Niece Declares She Will Not Marry Him.

BRIDE THAT WAS-TO-BE TO GO TO CALIFORNIA.

Promises Which Young Man Could Not Fulfill Said to Be Cause of the Break—Girl's Brother Makes Statement.

William Lee, the son of a rich manufacturer of the Bronx, has not been seen since last Sunday night when Miss Daisy Arnold, the niece of the late Surrogate John H. V. Arnold, broke her engagement with him. His family and friends have made an exhaustive search for the young man and now fear that he may have ended his life.

The final interview of the two young people was had Sunday night at Miss Arnold's home, No. 282 Arthur Avenue, the Bronx. Miss Arnold is twenty-four years old, the only daughter of the late Joseph Arnold. Lee is three years her senior, and for the past year has been engaged in business at No. 621 Broadway.

Engagement Broken Suddenly. Every preparation had been made for the wedding. For months the troupeau was collecting. The pretty home in the Bronx was redecorated and refurbished. The invitations were sent out. Not a preliminary detail had been omitted, and there was every expectation of a brilliant wedding. The ceremony was to take place on Thanksgiving Day at the new Church of St. Martin of Tours, in the Klenckbridge road.

So sudden was the breaking off of the engagement that not even the six bridesmaids received the news until yesterday. They had already ordered their dresses, an were heart and soul in all the preliminaries which the bride had called upon them to go through. Brief notes received by the young women were received yesterday, and then the secret was out.

Instead of preparing for a wedding Miss Arnold is to-day getting a divorce outfit ready. She will go to California and try to forget the man she loved for seven years, for the courtship continued that long. Packing trunks is now her unhappy task. She will take the long trip across the continent in a visit to friends who live in San Francisco.

Promises Impossible to Fulfill. The reason for the rupture of the relations between Mr. Arnold and Mr. Lee is said to be promises by the young man which were not only unfulfilled but which could not be fulfilled by him for some time to come. Lee's friends say that engagement was broken because he did not have, in the opinion of the girl's family, a fortune sufficient to support Miss Arnold in the style in which she had been accustomed.

Harry T. Arnold, a brother of Miss Daisy Arnold, gives the following explanation of the affair:

"Poverty had nothing to do with the breaking of this engagement. Lee misrepresented his affairs and deceived my sister. We then decided that he would not make a fit husband for her. It was not until Sunday that he told her that she would have to live in a furnished house when they were married. All the tales of riches suddenly melted away. We were not looking for wealth and all that it brings, but thought that Daisy would keep step into the life of a young man as the one she was going to leave. We hope that the matter is now ended for all time and that Lee will be found safe and sound."

Girl Not Broken-Hearted. "It is not true that Daisy is broken-hearted. She is simply going away for a trip. And other circumstances she will soon forget. She is a young woman and the man who so deceived her."

Two years ago the couple became engaged, but the families put in serious objections on account of the youth of both. A date was then fixed for last spring, but the wedding was postponed until Thanksgiving Day. Lee thought that by that time he would have been able to come up with the money, but he failed.

The last person who saw Lee was his father, to whom the son told the news of his broken engagement on Sunday night after saying a last good-bye to the girl he was to marry. The father, who had been a partner in the family business, was very much shocked and will call upon the police to locate his son.

Little Known at His Office. Lee is little known in the Cable Building, at No. 621 Broadway, where he is said to have been a dealer in window shades and wall-paper. He had a desk in the office of Sol Stern and F. H. H. Stern, real-estate men, at No. 58, on the third floor.

Even the desk which he used in the transaction of his business is said to be the property of the Sterns of the office, and was jammed into a corner of the small reception-room.

Neither Mr. Stern nor Mr. Stern's office girl said that although she had been employed there for three weeks she had never seen Lee. It was only because mail came addressed to Lee and people sometimes called for him, that the office knew Lee and the porter having charge of the third floor of the building did not even know that a man named Lee had an office on the floor.

The janitor of the building said he knew Lee slightly and that the young man had moved in about three months ago. The janitor had passed a few conversations with Lee, but he knew nothing of his business affairs.

"I haven't seen him in three weeks," remarked the janitor. "Guess he will come up all right."

Quarter Sizes in Hats. Why not in Shoes?

The difference of a quarter size in your hat will determine whether it shall fit perfectly, or ride on your ears.

The difference of a quarter size in your shoe may be all that's necessary to convert torture into perfect comfort.

Hats come not only in quarter sizes, but also in eighths. And yet the fit of shoes is more important than the fit of hats.

Hats too big look bad, but do not produce blisters—shoes do. Hats too small look bad, but do not make corns—shoes do.

Regals with their conceded perfection in style and expert workmanship, and now with their 288 fittings in quarter sizes, wear right, look right, fit right, and, therefore, make you feel right.

Third day of our furniture sale
All the manufacturers' samples of the latest designs shipped to New York in perfect order and displayed for the selection of high-class dealers are now assembled here for your choosing at less than the storekeepers themselves paid, and THEY bought at wholesale.

It was to avoid shipping this furniture back to their factory warehouses and paying high freight rates that the manufacturers sold us the entire showing at a great deal less than regular wholesale price. The display was pronounced by authorities to be the finest ever brought to Greater New York. The advantages of this sale to exacting home furnishers are beyond question without precedent.
